

I think you should leave well enough alone. Indianas telephone privacy laws have done wonders for allowing my family to enjoy each other and not some bothersome telemarketer. I used to receive 15 to 20 calls a week, now we receive one a month. Again let me emphasize to you to leave the Indiana law alone. I have no intention of allowing things to go back to the way they were.